November 2011

Dear PAF Family and Friends,

I wanted to again thank you for your previous support and am hopeful that we can count on you again this year for a contribution to help children and adults battling Propionic Acidemia.

If you have been following us on Facebook, www.pafoundation.com, or through the newsletter, you know that we have made great strides through research, publications, family support and guidance, and education.

Many find it hard to believe that so much good can come from so little investment, but this is certainly the case. Since our inception, PAF has funded 19 research grants for over $500,000 and reached out to hundreds of families affected by this terrible disorder and their doctors around the globe. Our goal this year is to raise $100,000, which will allow us to fund 3 more research grants with at least one going to study how Propionic Acidemia affects the brain.

We know that this is a difficult time in the economy and are grateful for whatever you can donate. Thank you for continuing to help improve the lives of individuals with PA and their families.

Happy holidays and best wishes,

Jill Chertow Franks
President, Propionic Acidemia Foundation
